

Holistic Management Workshop Program

Empowering People to Shape the Future of Regenerative, Nature-Based Farming Together

Join the Institute of Regenerative Leadership in a 6-month program to help you make informed environmental, social, and financial decisions.

This course provides knowledge, practical skills, and a strong support network to help you succeed. You will:

- Learn to manage effectively for positive outcomes.
- Connect with like-minded land managers who understand your challenges.
- Make small but powerful changes that drive big improvements.
- Extend your growing season for greater profitability and resilience.

The program includes two in-person 2-day workshops at key points in the growing cycle and support between sessions to help implement what you learn.
